Do not visit suspicious websites or open emails and messages of dubious origin or unrelated to your business

Contact the sender to confirm the authenticity, if you are in doubt with the received email or message

Enter the website address directly into a web browser or use a bookmark

Avoid sending personal, financial or sensitive information by email

Review the account status (e.g. last login time) regularly and change the password as soon as suspicious activities are detected

Adopt strong authentication mechanism if available

Check if the URL bar contains both the "https" and green padlock icon to ensure secure data transfer and website authenticity

Enable security features such as anti-phishing and malware protection, and keep anti-malware program and its signatures up-to-date

Contact the relevant organisation and/or report to the Police immediately, if you suspect that you have been defrauded

Report any phishing website and email to related organisation or the Police for investigation
